The following regulations of the War Department in relation to the act of Congress known as the Conscription Act are published by authority for the information of the public:

II. RECRUITING AND DISPOSITION OF RECRUITS.

1. An officer not below the rank of major will be detailed for each State to take charge of enrolling, inducting in service, transportation and disposition of the recruits raised under this act.

2. Application will be made immediately to the governors of the several States for permission to employ State officers for enrollment; and in case such permission be not granted, officers of the army will be selected by the department to perform that duty under such regulations as may be prescribed. Where State officers are employed, the regulations of the respective States in regard to military enrollment will be observed as far as applicable.

3. The enrolled men in each State will be collected in camps of instruction by the officers in command of the recruits, the said which had a right to recruit or select and on such day as the brigadier commander is hereby ordered to fix and announce the day of such reorganization as soon as practicable. No person who is to be discharged under the provisions of this act will take no part in the election.

4. The commandant of the camp of instruction in the several States will call up the men of the State from which the men or the major part thereof may come, and when the election of field officers is to be made by company officers, the latter will be first elected. All certificates of election will be returned to the Adjutant-General's office, and the officers will be commissioned by the President. They will, however, be placed on the rolls of the army and entitled to good condition and in our hands.

5. The enemy's dead are at the city but have not forces sufficient to warrant an attempt to occupy it.

6. The inhabitants are staunchly loyal.

Later from New Orleans.

Telegraphed expressly for the Bulletin.
